

Bring the tiger into your home! Exceptional floor design with HARO Corkett Tigra

Elegant and agile, a tiger stands out with its fascinating stripe patterned fur: he reigns supreme over the big cats. Individualists that are always on the lookout for that special touch when furnishing, can now put the "tiger" into their house. HARO Corkett Tigra provides the magic of a tiger skin on the living room floor. The result is a new, exclusive room feeling – unmistakably elegant in its vibrancy, just like the tiger and its stripes!

His patterned fur inspired the development of this exclusive floor. It uses the lines of the fur's colours – an elegant black combined with a warm dark brown. Earthy colours radiate natural warmth and thanks to the original design give the floor an air of exclusivity.

HARO Corkett Tigra is therefore the right choice for anyone that wants to create a distinctive atmosphere, and despite eagerness to experiment, truly believes in the importance of quality. HARO's new cork floor combines a unique design with a material that is the best that nature provides for the home in terms of ecology, building biology and ergonomics. Cork offers excellent foot warmth, is extremely durable against all kinds of stresses, and achieves perfect heat and sound insulation.

With its high elasticity, the floor has a relieving effect on the joints and spine with every step. A true "health spring" just at your feet. Giving you a feeling of comfort as well as a treat for your eyes with this outstanding design - HARO Corkett Tigra has managed this balancing act! Interior designers and decorators will find more information on the new floor on HARO's website www.haro.de and at HARO dealers. ■
